

Hussein Abaza completed undergraduate studies in Economics at the American University in Cairo (Egypt) and postgraduate studies in Urban Housing Planning at the Bradford University in the UK. Joined the UNEP in 1982, and worked in different capacities, These included: Chief of the Economics and Trade Branch, Chief of the Environment and Economics Unit, Coordinator of the Committee of International Development Institutions on the Environment, Assistant to the Executive Director of UNEP, Coordinator of the African Ministerial Conference of the Environment, and Fund Programme Management Officer. Main achievements while at UNEP included the development of the Economics and Trade Programme of UNEP and the launching of the UNEP Green Economy Initiative in 2008. Prior to joining UNEP, worked as Chief Executive Officer of the United Nations Physical and Urban Planning project in Saudi Arabia, Managing Director of the Center Planning and Architecture in Cairo, and Director of the Islamic Investment Company, Central and Northern Region, Saudi Arabia. Worked as a Consultant/Advisor for a number of international and regional organizations, including the World Bank, UNDP, UNEP, ILO, UNESCWA, ECA, EU, AFED, CEDARE, GIZ, SWEEP-Net, SWITCH-Med programme and Blue Plan. Currently functioning as the Senior Advisor to the Egyptian Minister of Environment. Prepared and contributed to a series of publications on sustainable development, Green economy, environmental economics, and trade of environment